Since this volume was first issued in 1981, the Arizona people formerly known as Papago Indians have officially changed their name to Tohono O'odham (Desert People). The change was adopted as part of a new constitution approved by members of the Tohono O'odham Nation (formerly the Papago Indian Tribe of Arizona) in January 1986.

Although some of the photos here were included in the earlier book, many others have been selected for this reissue.
