Process Memorandum to File

Additional Analysis of Individual Wells

This document is deliberative and is prepared by the third-party contractor in compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act and other laws, regulations, and policies to document ongoing process and analysis steps. This document does not take the place of any Line Officer's decision space related to this project.

Prepared by:

Purpose of Process Memorandum

The decision on how to analyze individual water supply wells potentially impacted by Resolution Copper activities is clearly disclosed in the EIS (section 3.7.1) and other background documentation (Newell and Garrett 2018). This approach was also the topic of public comments on the DEIS, with responses to those comments documented in Appendix R of the EIS (see response WT58 “Impacts to Individual Wells”).

The approach used in the EIS is to analyze proxy wells to represent drawdown impacts in three areas: Top-of-the-World, the Town of Superior, and Boyce Thompson Arboretum. Individual wells were not analyzed one-by-one because of fundamental unknowns:

In order to evaluate the effects of groundwater drawdown on an individual well, a number of details need to be known about the well construction and operation. These include depth to water, depth of well, location of perforated intervals, and the type and depth of pump equipment in the well. In general, individual water supply wells vary so much a hypothetical 10-foot drop in the water table could leave a shallow well completely dry (requiring it to be redrilled), could cause a different well to lower a pump but otherwise remain unaffected, or could have no noticeable effect at all for deeper wells. Most of these key details are unknown through existing data sources, and unable to be collected without disrupting water service. (FEIS, p. 393)¹.

In June 2022, the Forest Service received additional comments from a review of the January 2021 rescinded FEIS conducted by three Bureau of Land Management water specialists. These comments expressed understanding for the approach described above but suggested expanding the analysis to include the total number of wells impacted. The purpose of this process memo is to provide that analysis.

Well Registry Files Obtained

The analysis is based on the most recent available version of the Arizona Department of Water Resources (ADWR) Well Registry, also known as the “55-files”. The well registry was obtained on February 27, 2023 in GIS format from the ADWR data repository².

GIS Analysis Conducted

The well registry files were analyzed to extract the lists of wells within the following polygons:

- The 10-foot modeled drawdown contour in the East Salt River Valley caused by Resolution Copper pumping from the Desert Wellfield, under Alternative 2 (the highest groundwater use,

² <https://gisdata2016-11-18t150447874z-azwater.opendata.arcgis.com/datasets/azwater::well-registry/explore> shown in figure 3.7.1-2 in the FEIS). Note that where the 10-foot drawdown contour is not drawn, the model boundaries as shown in figure 3.7.1-2 were used for the polygon boundary.

- The 10-foot modeled drawdown contour in the East Salt River Valley caused by Resolution Copper pumping from the Desert Wellfield, under Alternative 4 (the lowest groundwater use, shown in figure 3.7.1-2 in the FEIS).
- The 10-foot modeled drawdown contour (from the best-calibrated base-case model) at the mine site, caused by Resolution Copper's dewatering and block-caving, as shown in figure 3.7.1-3 in the FEIS.
- The expanded 10-foot modeled drawdown contour (from the sensitivity analysis modeling) at the mine site, caused by Resolution Copper's dewatering and block-caving, as shown in figure 3.7.1-3 in the FEIS.

The raw extracted data are included with this process memo in Attachments 1 through 4, respectively.

Further Reduction of Data

The raw extracted data were further processed to remove the following types of wells:

- Any monitoring wells, piezometers, soil vapor extraction, injection wells, vadose zone monitoring wells, or sparging wells
- Any cathodic protection, geotechnical, exploration, or mineral exploration wells
- Any well record indicating that the application was canceled

The remaining wells are classified as varying types of either exempt or non-exempt wells and represent wells potentially used for water supply. The resulting data sets were then further processed to remove any wells under the ownership of Resolution Copper or Integrity Land and Cattle Company (operated by Resolution Copper).

Results of Analysis

The following results were obtained from the analysis of the ADWR well registry:

- Wells within the 10-foot drawdown contour for Alternative 2 in the East Salt River Valley
 - 304 exempt wells
 - 307 non-exempt wells
 - 611 wells total
- Wells within the 10-foot drawdown contour for Alternative 4 in the East Salt River Valley
 - 180 exempt wells
 - 165 non-exempt wells

- 345 wells total
- Wells within the 10-foot drawdown contour for the mine site (best-calibrated base-case model)
 - 48 exempt wells
 - 5 non-exempt wells
 - 53 wells total
- Wells within the expanded 10-foot drawdown contour for the mine site (sensitivity analysis modeling)
 - 111 exempt wells
 - 13 non-exempt wells
 - 124 wells total
